As part of our continued efforts to improve SorceryNet and keep it moving with evolving technology on IRC, we're making some changes to how we operate to offer a better experience to you, our users.

Part of this change is creating a central channel for everyone who requires help or just wants to chat instead of all these different channels we currently offer. In the future channels like (amongst others) #help #rpg-hub #forum and #sorcery will all point to our new channel #Square where staff will be on hand to answer questions.

We are introducing the new channel starting today. This is the first stage in a planned upgrade of the network: in the next couple of weeks Sorcery will undergo a Services upgrade.

With this upgrade we will be introducing some new functionality to the network such as HostServ. Now we know that with any upgrade there are always going to be questions that need answers which is why we're introducing our new channel starting today, for people to come in and ask questions and get to know a bit more about what we're thinking and what we're working on for the future of SorceryNet.
